ICMA announces June 2008 Primary Market Certificate (PMC) Programme Graduates

(London, UK) The International Capital Market Association (ICMA) is pleased to announce that the following candidates have successfully passed the Primary Market Certificate (PMC).

Jonas Harbo, Danske Bank
Evgenia Grana, Deutsche Bank
Esther Martinez, European Central Bank
Ghiath Shabsigh, International Monetary Fund
Tatyana Sukhanova, Raiffeisen Bank
Igor Gorin, Raiffeisen Bank
Laura Gavrilla, Raiffeisen International Bank
Ian White, RBC Capital Markets
Ulla Tiovola, Sampo Bank
Nick Lewis, UBS Limited

The PMC is intended primarily for persons working in the origination, syndication and transaction management areas of investment banks or securities houses. It is also a valuable qualification for capital markets lawyers looking to expand their understanding of the workings of the primary markets. The next PMC course is on November 17-21, 2008 in London.

PMC forms part of the suite of ICMA Executive Education courses overseen by the ICMA Centre at the University of Reading. These courses provide training for beginner, intermediate and advanced professionals covering front, middle and operation functions. ICMA provides in-house and public course offerings including the Financial Markets Foundation Course (FMFC), the International Fixed Income and Derivatives (IFID) Certificate Programme, the Operations Certificate Programme (OCP) as well as a number of tailor made courses in markets, regulation and operations.
