

Biography

Martin Scheck

Chief Executive International Capital Market Association (ICMA)

Martin Scheck took up his position as Chief Executive of ICMA in August 2009. Since then, he has focused ICMA on providing membership services in its core activities in the international debt securities markets - namely market practice in primary and secondary markets, repo and collateral markets, and the sustainable bond markets, along with the associated regulatory policy activities. To support ICMA's growing membership he has overseen the setting up of representative offices in Hong Kong and Brussels, augmenting the Association's presence in Zurich, London, and Paris.

He was a Board member of ICMA for five years prior to being Chief Executive and also chaired its Audit, Compliance and Governance Committee.

Previously he was Managing Director and Head of Fixed Income at UBS Investment Bank, Zurich from 2001 to 2009 and before this Head of Debt Capital Markets for Switzerland at UBS from 1999.

From 1987 to 1999 Mr Scheck held a number of senior roles at Swiss Bank Corporation in London, Zurich, and the USA.

Non-executive functions include:

- Member of the Securities and Markets Stakeholders Group (SMSG) of the European Securities and Markets Authority (ESMA)
- Member of the Bond Market Contact Group (BMCG) of the European Central Bank (ECB)
- Board member of the International Finance Forum (IFF)

Mr Scheck qualified as a UK Chartered Accountant and worked at KPMG in London from 1980 to 1986.
