Mandy DeFilippo

Managing Director, Head of Risk Management for Fixed Income & Commodities, EMEA
Morgan Stanley

Mandy DeFilippo is a Managing Director and Head of Risk Management for Fixed Income & Commodities, EMEA at Morgan Stanley. She joined Morgan Stanley in 2007, in the Global Capital Markets (GCM) division, based in London. Mandy first worked in the Equity Capital Markets team, and from 2011 to 2013, she ran the Capital Markets Structuring Team in GCM EMEA for both debt and equity products. From 2013 until the beginning of 2017, Mandy was Chief Operating Officer for Global Capital Markets in EMEA, and Chief Risk Officer for GCM International, covering EMEA, Asia-Pacific and Japan.

In her current role, Mandy sits on the regional and global management committees for the Fixed Income Division, and on a number of other governance related committees in the Firm, including Franchise and Risk committees.

Mandy is an active participant in industry-wide organisations in the European market, including initiatives to establish market standards for the industry, and has spoken publicly in a number of forums in this connection. She joined the Board of the International Capital Markets Association (ICMA) in 2016 and was elected Chair in May 2018, the first woman to hold the position.

Before joining Morgan Stanley, Mandy was a US corporate and securities lawyer at one of the "Magic Circle" law firms in London. Mandy holds a BA degree from Columbia University and a Juris Doctor degree from Harvard Law School.
